

Our Valued Policyholders,

As we all do our parts to safeguard the health and safety of our family, friends, co-workers, and business partners, we want to assure you that Builders Insurance Group will continue to deliver on the promises we have made to you.

Though we face an unprecedented time of uncertainty brought on by the Coronavirus outbreak, we have implemented processes and technologies to maintain excellent service levels without disruptions.

As always, you can rely on our convenient Builders Online web portal to access your policy information, make payments, and file claims. For questions specific to your billing, you may contact us directly at (866) 407-8776. For other assistance, please contact your agent.

We wish strength to those serving our country to pull us through this crisis, especially health care professionals and first responders—and safety and good health to you and your family.

Courteously,

Builders Insurance Group
